PUBLIC LEDGER NEWS IN KENTUCKY.

EXCRPT SUNDAY, JULY FOURTH, THANKSGIVING AND CHRISTMAS.

OFFICE -Public Ledger Building, No. 10 East

What next? All along our friends the Democrats have been rearing up on their hind legs and howling about "Government by injunction;" and now comes GOUREL'S State Election Commission at Frankfort and "en-joins" Governor TAYLOR'S appointees from trying the contest cases. Surely, Democratic consistency is a pinch-beck jewel.

The Paducah News says the election in that county, so far as the action of the election officers went, was as fair as possible. But they had mighty thin ballots. In one of the largest elly Precinities one of the Goebel Election officers cautioned several voters not to stamp their ballots hard, explaining that unless the stencil was pressed very lightly the crossmark would be seen after the ballot was folded. However, McCracken went for GOBBEL, and these thin ballots were all right. e all right

SMITH ROBERTSON, a colored Alder-man of Jackson, Miss., died a few days ago. Mayor Toon and the other Aldermen, all white men, were his pall-bearers, a tribute never before paid to a Negro there. He had been a member of the City Council eight years, and was highly respected by both white and black. Here is an ex-emplar for the colored men of Mays-ville. Let them deport themselves as (SMITH ROBERTSON, and they, too, will be respected by everybody. SMITH ROBERTSON, a colored Alderbe respected by everybody.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat says
GOEBEL'S contest before the Legislature will end just as it did before the State Election Board. The candidate who had the most votes has been inaugurated, and the Legislature will not disturb that arrangement. Notwithstanding that Democratic majority in the Legislature GOEWEL is public. winstanding that Democratic majority in the Legislature, Goebel is politically dead. All Kentucky Democrats are not dishonest. Fortunately for themselves and the state, a very large proportion of them have some regard for the will of the people.

It Always Pays to Advertise in the Most Popular Paper.

Continue Research
In last Saintady's Democrat we advertised for an eelipse of the moon as a holiday attraction for old and young, and along about 6 o'clock there came the eelipse as beautiful as any you ever saw. The Democrat is read all over the earth, sun, moon and stars, and on some occasions, especially during campaigns, it has been ordered to go to where can reach them through these columns. Now is the time to subseribe, and an advertisement always brings results.
